

PRIVACY POLICY

Website Visitors

Like most website operators, Hoverboardpro collects non-personally-identifying information of the sort that web browsers and servers typically make available, such as the browser type, language preference, referring site, and the date and time of each visitor request. Hoverboardpro purpose in collecting non-personally identifying information is to better understand how Hoverboardpro visitors use its website. From time to time, Hoverboardpro may release non-personally-identifying information in the aggregate, e.g., by publishing a report on trends in the usage of its website.

Hoverboardpro also collects potentially personally-identifying information like Internet Protocol (IP) addresses for logged in users and for users leaving comments on Hoverboardpro blogs. Hoverboardpro only discloses logged in user and commenter IP addresses under the same circumstances that it uses and discloses personally-identifying information as described below, except that blog commenter IP addresses and email addresses are visible and disclosed to the administrators of the blog where the comment was left.

Gathering of Personally-Identifying Information

Certain visitors to Hoverboardpro websites choose to interact with Hoverboardpro in ways that require Hoverboardpro to gather personally-identifying information. The amount and type of information that Hoverboardpro gathers depends on the nature of the interaction. Those who engage in transactions with Hoverboardpro are asked to provide additional information, including as necessary the personal and financial information required to process those transactions. In each case, Hoverboardpro collects such information only insofar as is necessary or appropriate to fulfil the purpose of the visitor's interaction with Hoverboardpro . Hoverboardpro does not disclose personally-identifying information other than as described below. And visitors can always refuse to supply personally-identifying information, with the caveat that it may prevent them from engaging in certain website-related activities.

Protection of Certain Personally-Identifying Information

Hoverboardpro discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only to those of its employees, contractors and affiliated organizations that (i) need to know that information in order to process it on Hoverboardpro behalf or to provide services available at Hoverboardpro websites, and (ii) that have agreed not to disclose it to others. Some of those employees, contractors and affiliated organizations may be located outside of your home country; by using Hoverboardpro websites, you consent to the transfer of such information to them. Hoverboardpro will not rent or sell potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information to anyone. Other than to its employees, contractors and affiliated organizations, as described above, Hoverboardpro discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only in response to a subpoena, court order or other governmental request, or when Hoverboardpro believes in good faith that disclosure is reasonably necessary to protect the property or rights of Hoverboardpro , third parties or the public at large. If you are a registered user of an Hoverboardpro website and have supplied your email address, Hoverboardpro may occasionally send you an email to tell you about new features, solicit your feedback, or just keep you up to date with what's going on with Hoverboardpro and our products. We primarily use our various product blogs to communicate this type of information, so we expect to keep this type of email to a minimum. If you send us a request (for example via a support email or via one of our feedback mechanisms), we reserve the right to publish it in order to help us clarify or respond to your request or to help us support other users. Hoverboardpro takes all measures reasonably necessary to protect against the unauthorized access, use, alteration or destruction of potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information.

Cookies

A cookie is a string of information that a website stores on a visitor's computer, and that the visitor's browser provides to the website each time the visitor returns. Hoverboardpro uses cookies to help Hoverboardpro identify and track visitors, their usage of Hoverboardpro website, and their website access preferences. Hoverboardpro visitors who do not wish to have cookies placed on their computers should set their browsers to refuse cookies before using Hoverboardpro's websites, with the drawback that certain features of Hoverboardpro's websites may not function properly without the aid of cookies.

Business Transfers

If Hoverboardpro , or substantially all of its assets, were acquired, or in the unlikely event that Hoverboardpro goes out of business or enters bankruptcy, user information would be one of the assets that is transferred or acquired by a third party. You acknowledge that such transfers may occur, and that any acquirer of Hoverboardpro may continue to use your personal information as set forth in this policy.

Ads

Ads appearing on any of our websites may be delivered to users by advertising partners, who may set cookies. These cookies allow the ad server to recognize your computer each time they send you an online advertisement to compile information about you or others who use your computer. This information allows ad networks to, among other things, deliver targeted advertisements that they believe will be of most interest to you. This Privacy Policy covers the use of cookies by Hoverboardpro and does not cover the use of cookies by any advertisers.

Privacy Policy Changes

Although most changes are likely to be minor, Hoverboardpro may change its Privacy Policy from time to time, and in Hoverboardpro's sole discretion. Hoverboardpro encourages visitors to frequently check this page for any changes to its Privacy Policy. If you have a Hoverboardpro account, you should also check your blog's dashboard for alerts to these changes. Your continued use of this site after any change in this Privacy Policy will constitute your acceptance of such change.

Customer Security

Your payment and personal information is always safe. Our Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) software is the industry standard and among the best software available today for secure commerce transactions. It encrypts all of your personal information, including credit card number, name, and address, so that it cannot be read over the internet.
